Cood Court Day.

Although Monday was a good day for the farmers to do much work at home, yet a large number of them came to town, and the day was a good one in a business way. The annual horse show drew the crowd, and it was considered the best in recent years. Many fine animals were on exhibition, and the show was greatly enjoyed. It was said that more fine horses were shown than have been here in many years, which goes to show the interest being taken in the horse-raising indus

While in Danville, Friday, the Edi wall paper merchant, and, during the conversation we learned of an inven tion he has just perfected, which will not only bring fame, but many dollars to the clever gentleman. When the big orchestrian was placed in the skat ing rink, just opened in Danville, Mr Gibbons was greatly interested in the machine, and carefully watched the putting in place of every part of the big instrument. Realizing what a drawing card such an instrument is. he at once set to work to think out something on the same order which would outclass the mechanical piano.

Mr Gibbons, as his friends are aware, is a great financier of cats, and raises two or three different breeds, in which he takes great pride. He has given much attention to the voices of the different felines, and, being blessed with a good ear for harmony, has on several occasions gotten together a number of his pets which would make dairymen forget the important rela tion between dairying and fertility, as compared with other branches of farm made with a key board like that of a ing and live stock husbandry, I wish to piano To these are attached levers with extend back into a regular piano ly made public by the Ohio experiment case. The bill to equalize the salaries of men and women teachers in New York city has passed the upper house of the state legislature by a vote of 45 to 1 and the women are much elated. A wide discrimination is now made between the pay of men and women do ing the same work in the schools and the latter are making a strong fight against the injustice. The men teach ers have fought the measure bitterly and the opposition has probably done as much as anything else to aid the men's cause. The unfairness of the situation was thus brought into great-
